

Bar Gratuity Reconstruction

Monday, August 31, 2026 | Proof of concept | Source: SyncJournal.dbo.TRNJournalLogs (read-only)

Bar employee totals and dayparts

Employee	Before 5pm	5pm - close	Day total
Tony S.	48.03	119.26	167.29
Ciera	4.03	119.26	123.29
nicole	4.03	119.26	123.29
branda	4.02	119.23	123.25
Christopher	0.00	40.00	40.00
Total	60.11	517.01	577.12

Dayparts are split on ticket open time (TransactionDateCreated), which is the basis the POS gratuity report uses.

Verification against POS gratuity export

Employee	POS export	Journal query	Difference
Tony S.	167.29	167.29	0.00
Ciera	123.29	123.29	0.00
nicole	123.29	123.29	0.00
branda	123.25	123.25	0.00
Sasha	62.87	62.87	0.00
Christopher	40.00	40.00	0.00
Angela	37.55	37.55	0.00
Jesus	0.00	0.00	0.00
Total	677.54	677.54	0.00

288 of 288 export rows matched the journal on transaction ID, name and amount.

Notes

- Bar identified by terminal (BAR1, BAR3, MPOS2, MPOS6). The Department column is blank on all gratuity lines, so it cannot be used to isolate the bar.
- The bar runs a tip pool. 43 of 50 tipped tickets split evenly four ways between Tony S., Ciera, nicole and branda, starting with the ticket opened at 4:44 PM. Tony S. was the sole recipient before that.
- Tips are entered in batches at settlement, so the time a tip is recorded is not the time it was earned. 231 bar tip lines were recorded across only 33 distinct minutes. Using record time instead of ticket open time moves $46.11 across the 5pm boundary.
- Christopher has a single $40 tip outside the pool, on a ticket opened at 5:48 PM and recorded at 10:12 PM.
- The journal holds 3 zero-dollar gratuity lines absent from the POS export (txn 826050, 826255, 826267). No dollar impact.
- 43 of the 291 gratuity lines are $0.00 and will inflate any tip-count metric.
